

U.S. OLYMPIC MUSEUM REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL

This is a request for a six-month Public Relations Proposal for the U.S. Olympic Museum in Colorado Springs, CO. The proposal should incorporate the development of a public relations plan and the following activities: website and social media development, media relations, community liaison activities, assisting with collateral content writing, and coordination of logo/graphics.

There will be several unique opportunities for the U.S. Olympic Museum in 2015. We anticipate these activities would include the following:

- Audit of our website (usolympicmuseum.org), the expansion of which will include visitor tracking, content development, and video testimonials in close coordination with the Museum's Director of Administration and Content Development Team
- Search engine optimization
- Interactive social media development to raise public interest and assist in fundraising
- Close coordination and compliance with the USOC concerning marketing and graphic standards
- Content writing in close coordination with the Museum's Director of Administration and Content Development Team for press releases and marketing materials for fundraising purposes and local events
- Arranging local media relationships and coverage including interviews and appearances
- Identifying public relations opportunities within a designated budget, to include liaison support among local businesses and volunteers

All proposals should include:

- An hourly-billing estimate to develop a public relations plan and detail primary program elements for the U.S. Olympic Museum
- A detailed Budget and Timeline utilizing our existing website and logo graphics
- A list of proposed team members, including biographies, billing rates and level of participation on the account
- Brief case histories that illustrate ability and experience in handling large corporate accounts
- An explanation of firm's billing procedures including rates, mark-ups, etc.
- References

All proposals will be evaluated based on:

- The understanding of and ability to meet our goals and objectives, anticipating needs and delivering impeccable, timely results
- A collaborative teamwork approach embodying the Olympic Values of Respect, Friendship and Excellence; this project will thrive on a culture of cooperation
- Firm and personnel qualifications and experience, with weight given to experience of account team, ability to manage breadth of project activities, and locality based in Colorado Springs
- Competitive pricing structure that meets the Museum's ambitious goals and modest budget

U.S. Olympic Museum Project Description:

The United States Olympic Museum and Hall of Fame in Colorado Springs will be the first and only comprehensive Olympic Museum in the United States. The new iconic building will contain the artifacts, media, technology and personal stories associated with the Olympic Movement, the Olympic and Paralympic Games, and the myriad of stories behind the dedicated athletes who follow their dreams. Through the use of compelling video and highly interactive experiences, visitors will be immersed in the drama and exhilaration of being at the Games--in the pool, on the track, at the starting line, and on the podium.

The U.S. Olympic and Paralympic community, the USOC and the citizens of Colorado Springs have the highest aspirations for this new museum. The new U.S. Olympic Museum, which aims to open prior to the Olympic Winter Games in 2018, will be a gold medal win for the community, for Olympic history and for the nation.

Submission: Submissions must be received by December 15, 2014. Selection will be made by mid-January 2015. To facilitate the review process, please provide an electronic version (all PDF format) of the submittal and questions to the following address: projects@usolympicmuseum.org.

If the electronic version exceeds or email limitation of 20MBs, a USB drive or CD can be mailed to the following address: U.S. Olympic Museum, P.O. Box 681 Colorado Springs, CO 80901

Disclaimer: The period of service for the U.S. Olympic Museum Public Relations Agreement will terminate automatically after six months, unless both parties mutually agree to renew. Either party may cancel the agreement, at any time, with thirty-day prior written notice.
